Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

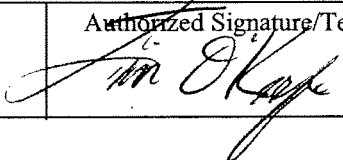

The contracts and reporting addressed in the rules are substantially similar to contracts and reporting that the Department currently requires in conjunction with administering economic development grants, loans and tax credits – and therefore are not expected to have any significant fiscal effect on the Department.

The rules are not expected to impose any significant costs on local governments or the private sector, because preparation of the statements that are addressed in the rules is not expected to have a significant new cost.

FINAL REGULATORY FLEXIBILITY ANALYSIS

Department of Commerce

CLEARINGHOUSE RULE NO.: 09-045

RULE NO.: Chapter Comm 149

RELATING TO: Statements and Penalties for Grant and Loan Programs, and Penalties for Tax Credit Programs

☐ Final regulatory flexibility analysis not required. (Statement of determination required.)

1. Reason for including or failing to include the following methods for reducing impact of the rule on small businesses: Less stringent compliance or reporting requirements; less stringent schedules or deadlines for compliance or reporting requirements; simplification of compliance or reporting requirements; establishment of performance standards to replace design or operational standards; exemption from any or all requirements.

Less stringent requirements are not proposed for small businesses because the directing legislation, 2007 Wisconsin Act 125, does not provide such flexibility.

2. Issues raised by small businesses during hearings, changes in proposed rules as a result of comments by small businesses and reasons for rejecting any alternatives suggested by small businesses.

No issues were raised.

3. Nature and estimated cost of preparation of any reports by small businesses.

The reporting addressed in the rules is substantially similar to reporting that the Department currently requires in conjunction with administering economic development grants, loans and tax credits – and therefore is not expected to impose any significant new costs on small businesses.

4. Nature and estimated cost of other measures and investments required of small businesses.

The rules are not expected to impose significant costs on small businesses for other measures because the rules address submittal of documentation, and other activities, only by applicants that choose to pursue grants, loans or tax credits for economic development.

5. Additional cost to agency of administering or enforcing a rule which includes any of the methods in 1. for reducing impact on small businesses.

None of the methods listed in 1. for reducing small-business impacts are included in the proposed rules.

6. Impact on public health, safety and welfare caused by including any of the methods in 1. for reducing impact on small businesses.

None of the methods listed in 1. for reducing small-business impacts are included in the proposed rules.

CLEARINGHOUSE RULE 09-045

Comments

[NOTE: All citations to “Manual” in the comments below are to the Administrative Rules Procedures Manual, prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau and the Legislative Council Staff, dated September 2008.]

2. Form, Style and Placement in Administrative Code

- a. The action taken in SECTION 1 of the rule should be included in the action clause that begins the rule-making order.
- b. Generally, the department should avoid the phrase “of the Statutes” when making statutory references. Instead, for example, write “Section 227.11 (2) (a), Stats.,” if the phrase begins a sentence and “s. 227.11 (2) (a), Stats.,” if the phrase does not begin a sentence. Similarly, specific references to a “chapter” or “chapters” of the administrative code should be abbreviated “ch.” and “chs.” within a sentence. For example, in item 4 of the rule summary, refer to “ch. Comm 560 and other Comm chapters....”
- c. In item 4 of the rule summary, the department refers to ch. Comm 100. Is this chapter currently part of the administrative code?
- d. In item 4 of the rule summary, it appears the department intends to refer to s. 560.685, Stats., rather than s. 560.658.
- e. The last section of the rule preface should be numbered “12.” rather than “13.”

5. Clarity, Grammar, Punctuation and Use of Plain Language

a. Section Comm 205.10 (1) should refer to each economic-development grant or loan program administered by the department by making use of the citations found in SECTION 1 of the rule. These citations could be placed either in the text of the rule or in a note to sub. (1).

b. Section Comm 205.50 (1) (c) provides that the department may impose a forfeiture on the recipient, but the rule does not provide any guidance on the imposition of these forfeitures. At a minimum, the department should clarify these provisions by specifying the procedures that it will use to impose these forfeitures and the range of the amounts of a forfeiture that may be imposed under these provisions.

RESPONSE COMMENTS TO LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL RULES CLEARINGHOUSE REPORT

Clearinghouse comment 2. c. Chapter Comm 100 was created as an emergency rule effective June 30, 2009, and is expected to be replaced by a corresponding permanent rule on or before July 1, 2010.

Clearinghouse comment 5. As directed by section 560.075 (2) of the Statutes, the Department currently executes a contractual agreement with each recipient of a grant, loan or tax benefit, that requires the recipient to repay the grant, loan or tax benefit if, within 5 years after either receiving the grant or loan or being certified to receive the tax benefit, the recipient (1) ceases to conduct in Wisconsin the economic activity for which the recipient either received the grant or loan or was certified to receive the tax benefit, and (2) then commences substantially the same economic activity outside Wisconsin.

The Department plans to continue including this requirement in these contractual agreements, and plans to add a "clawback rights agreement" as a rider to these contracts, for establishing the Department's clawback rights and detailing when and how they will be pursued, along with any applicable appeal or adjudication procedures.

Based on Clearinghouse comment 5, the Department has added an informational Note to section Comm 149.50 (1) describing the contractual agreement and repayment that are required by section 560.075 (2) of the Statutes, and we have expanded section Comm 149.50 (1) (c) to specify the form of the further forfeitures that the Department may impose – namely, cash penalties, an increase in the loan interest rate, debarment from accessing Commerce programs, or other forfeitures as specified in the contract between the Department and the recipient.

The Department prefers to then expand the contract to include the procedures for imposing forfeitures and the range of their amounts, as is now clarified in section Comm 149.50 (2) – rather than specify them in an administrative rule – in order to retain the flexibility needed for adequately addressing the broad range of programs and projects within the scope of this chapter, and to reduce the potential for the rule to become outdated and misleading as administrative practices evolve in conjunction with changes in the marketplace of economic development.

RULES IN FINAL DRAFT FORM

Rule No.: Chapter Comm 149

Relating to: Statements and Penalties for Grant and Loan

Clearinghouse Rule No.: 09-045

PROPOSED ORDER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

CREATING RULES

The Wisconsin Department of Commerce proposes an order to create Comm 106.49 Note, 106.68 Note and 106.87 Note, 108.02 Note, 110.08 Note, 113.07 Note, 116.07 Note, 117.07 Note, 119.09 Note, 127.06 Note, 129.03 Note, 131.50 Note, 132.40 Note, 133.10 Note and chapter Comm 149 relating to statements and penalties for grant and loan programs, and penalties for tax credit programs, and affecting small businesses.

Rule Analysis

1. Statutes Interpreted.

Sections 560.01 (2) (ae) 6. and 7. and (as), as created by 2007 Wisconsin Act 125.

2. Statutory Authority.

Sections 560.01 (2) (ae) 6. and 7., and section 227.11 (2) (a).

3. Explanation of Agency Authority.

Section 227.11 (2) (a) of the Statutes authorizes the Department to promulgate rules interpreting the provisions of any Statute administered by the Department. Sections 560.01 (2) (ae) 6. and 7. direct the Department to require, by rule, penalties and statements in the economic-development grant or loan programs administered by the Department, and penalties in the tax credit programs administered by the Department.

4. Related Statute or Rule.

Several statute sections and other Departmental rules address financial incentives for economic development in Wisconsin. For example, (1) sections 560.70 to 560.7995 of the Statutes and chapters Comm 100, 107, 112 and 118 address statewide tax-credit programs for job creation, capital investment, employee training and corporate headquarters; (2) sections 560.60 to 560.685 of the Statutes and chapter Comm 106 direct economic development grants and loans towards capital financing, worker training, entrepreneurial development, providing assistance to technology-based business or to businesses at a foreign trade show or event, promoting urban or regional economic development, establishing revolving loan funds, providing working capital, and promoting employee ownership; and (3) several other sections of chapter 560 of the Statutes and other Comm chapters address more-narrowly targeted economic development incentives, such as for film productions, dairy manufacturing facilities, technology commercialization, rural economic development, and brownfield redevelopment.

5. Rule Summary.

The rules in this order would (1) require each recipient of an economic development grant, loan or tax credit administered by the Department to enter into a contract with the Department, prior to receiving allocation of the grant, loan or tax credit; (2) require each recipient of a grant or loan to submit to the Department a statement which contains a detailed accounting of the funding and deliverables for the grant or loan; (3) require verification by a certified public accountant for the statements for grants or loans that total $100,000 or more; and (4) establish penalties for recipients who submit false or misleading information or who fail to comply with the terms of a contract.

6. Summary of, and Comparison With, Existing or Proposed Federal Regulations.

The federal Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA) of 1993, as primarily enacted in sections 1115 and 1116 of Title 31 of the United States Code, contains several main elements that are substantially similar to the main elements of 2007 Wisconsin Act 125 – such as requiring governmental executive agencies to (1) establish measurable goals and performance indicators for each applicable program administered by the agency, and (2) annually submit a corresponding detailed report to legislative reviewers that assesses the overall effectiveness of each of those programs. However, GPRA does not include the Act 125 requirements that (1) the recipients of the program benefits must submit performance and financial reports and corresponding verified statements to the administering agency; and (2) administering agencies must establish penalties for a recipient who submits false or misleading information, or who fails to comply with the terms of a contract and then fails to adequately explain the noncompliance.

Section 6304 of Title 31 of the United States Code requires a federal executive agency to use a grant agreement as the legal instrument reflecting the relationship between the United States Government and a State, a local government, or other recipient when (1) the principal purpose of the relationship is to transfer something of value to the recipient to carry out a public purpose, and (2) substantial involvement is not expected between the executive agency and the recipient when carrying out the activity contemplated in the agreement. Several of the economic development programs administered by the Department of Commerce include federal grant funding and therefore are addressed in such grant agreements. The Department likewise uses similar grant and loan agreements with the local recipients of the benefits of these and other economic development programs. Federal administrative requirements for grant agreements between federal agencies and nonprofit organizations, for example, are established in section 215 of Title 2 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Those requirements include having the recipient submit performance reports and financial status reports to the awarding agency at least annually – and the financial status report must include a certification statement from an authorized official for the recipient, that attests to the accuracy and completeness of the report and to the validity of all included outlays. This required recipient performance reporting closely matches the recipient performance reporting that is required in 2007 Wisconsin Act 125; and the required certification statement on the financial report closely matches the verification statement which is likewise required in Act 125, and which is addressed in the proposed rules.

Sections 215.61 and 215.62 of Title 2 of the Code of Federal Regulations specify that grant awards may be withheld, suspended, or terminated in whole or in part if a recipient fails to comply with the terms and conditions of an award. These penalties for this failure closely match the withholding-payment penalty which is authorized in Act 125 for recipients who fail to comply with the terms of a grant or loan agreement, and which is addressed in the proposed rules.

Under the federal civil money penalty law, as enacted in 1981 and as currently applied, for example, to the Social Security program through section 1320a-8 of Title 42 of the United States Code, any person who submits false or misleading statements for an agency's use in determining eligibility for program benefits is subject to a penalty of not more than $5000 for each such statement, and to an assessment of not more than twice the amount of benefits or payments paid as a result of the statements. Since 1981, the provisions of the civil money penalty law have been expanded by reference to numerous types of fraudulent and abusive activities, including those addressed by the federal Economic Development Administration. These penalties for these statements closely match the Act 125 penalties which impose a forfeiture or recoup a payment in response to submittal of false or misleading statements, and which are addressed in the proposed rules.

An Internet-based search of recent editions of the Federal Register did not reveal any currently proposed federal regulations regarding penalties in the economic development grant and loan programs administered by the Department; or regarding penalties for submitting false or misleading information in the economic development tax credit programs administered by the Department. In the November 21, 2007, edition of the Federal Register, notice was found of a proposal by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development to extend its information-collection requirements to include requirements for grant recipients to report against their baseline performance standards, in a manner that standardizes grants progress reporting requirements and promotes greater emphasis on performance and results in grant programs.

7. Comparison With Rules in Adjacent States.

Minnesota

An Internet-based search did not reveal any similar Minnesota rules. However, sections 116J.993 to 116J.995 of the Minnesota Statutes require recipients of state-level economic development funding to (1) enter into a formal subsidy agreement with the State, (2) perform annual reporting, and (3) pay back subsidies for failures to meet terms of the agreements. These requirements are similar to the requirements for the contracts, reporting and penalties that are addressed in the proposed rules. As in the proposed rules, the Minnesota reporting requirements are more detailed for larger funding levels.

Michigan

An Internet-based search did not reveal any similar Michigan rules. However, sections 208.1431 to 208.1434 of the Michigan Statutes address tax credits for job development and economic development – and require recipients of the credits to enter into a formal agreement with the State, and to submit a verified statement from a Certified Public Accountant addressing the actual jobs created, if required by the Michigan Economic Growth Authority. The tax credits can be reduced or terminated for failure to meet the terms of the contract, and must be paid back in full to the State if 51% or more of the new qualified jobs are moved out of state within three years after claiming the credit.

Illinois

Section 20 ILCS 715 of the Illinois Statutes requires recipients of state-level economic development funding to (1) enter into a formal subsidy agreement with the State, (2) perform annual reporting, and (3) pay back subsidies for failures to meet terms of the agreements. The Illinois Administrative Code contains further requirements relating to these topics in Title 32 section 130.110 for renewable fuels and in Title 14 sections 527.80, 527.90, 527.100, 540.190, and 545.560 for economic development and technology development. These requirements are similar to the requirements for the contracts, reporting and penalties that are addressed in the proposed rules. As in the proposed rules, the Illinois reporting requirements are more detailed for larger funding levels.

Iowa

Chapters 15, 15A and 15E of the Iowa statutes, and the Iowa Administrative Code chapters administered by the Department of Economic Development address state-level financial incentives for economic development and job development and require recipients of these incentives to (1) enter into a formal agreement with the State, (2) perform annual reporting, and (3) pay back subsidies for failures to meet terms of the agreements. These requirements are similar to the requirements for the contracts, reporting and penalties that are addressed in the proposed rules.

8. Summary of Factual Data and Analytical Methodologies.

The data and methodology for developing these rules were derived from and consisted of (1) incorporating the criteria in 2007 Wisconsin Act 125; (2) incorporating applicable best practices the Department has developed in administering similar programs for economic development, business development, and tax-credit verification; and (3) reviewing Internet-based sources of related federal, state, and private-sector information.

9. Analysis and Supporting Documents Used to Determine Effect on Small Business or in Preparation of an Economic Impact Report.

The primary document that was used to determine the effect of the rules on small business was 2007 Wisconsin Act 125. This Act applies its private-sector requirements only to businesses for which a corresponding grant, loan or tax credit is desired.

10. Effect on Small Business.

The rules are not expected to impose significant costs or other adverse impacts on small businesses because the rules address submittal of documentation, and other activities, only by applicants that choose to pursue grants, loans or tax credits for economic development.
